

THE ART OF SPACE HOLDING

Powered by Possibility Management

A powerful training for Workshop Leaders,
Trainers & Space Holders.

About the training:

The space determines what is possible.

So it's all about the art of creating and navigating spaces.

For the first time, this training offers non Possibility Management Trainers and Workshop Leaders direct access to the results and approved tools and skills from over 40 years of research on space holding in Possibility Management.

This training offers you a quantum leap for your workshop leader competence.

Your inherent talents and skills will get expressed more and more in your individual field of expertise as a Trainer from routine towards more flow and joy in your professional activities.

You will practice:

- Shift into Trainer Identity
- Difference between to hold a and to control a space
- Usage of sword of clarity (distinction is a higher technology than setting a boundary)
- Usage of voice in order to create spaces
- Self marketing
- Not getting triggered by participants (5 gaps)
- Trainers shadow

Logistics:

Date: Saturday 30th of March 2019, 10am to 6pm
(there is an offer for a second day on Sunday for folks on the PM Trainer Path who attended at least one Possibility Lab)

Price: Sliding scale $110-190
(or $280-450 for two days incl. evening session on Saturday)

Potluck: Bring your own food

Venue: A private home in Eugene, OR

Contact: Debby Sugarman at debby@debbysugarman.org

Phone: 716-479-1490